» GET TO KNOW ME!

I am a designer and front-end developer in Toronto, Canada. My love for design and coding began in my teens, and now I am lucky enough to have it as my career. I currently just completed the Web Design and Interactive Media program at Humber College North. This program not only allowed me to learn new skills, but also gave me the chance to expand on them. To me I found this to be a great experience and very important in an industry that is ever changing.

» OBJECTIVE

My goal is to find a full-time position working as a designer/front-end developer. I am excited to challenge myself and not only learn new things but also help myself grow in the website industry.
